<tr>
<td>The general learning objective of the PhD programme is to address the PhD students toward a high level philosophical research, in accordance with the most dynamic guidelines of the current international research. The articulation in educational curricula fulfills optimally to this requirement. The aim of the PhD is to train scientists who, starting from a basic competence in all the sectors of philosophical disciplines, will provide innovative and original contributions to one or more specific sectors of such disciplines. At the same time they will be able to identify and investigate the points of connection and interaction of the contemporary philosophical discussion both with disciplines the artistic-literary, humanistic, historical and social area, and with those of the area of mathematical, physical and natural sciences.</td>
